
LATINO BOOK REVIEW

www.latinobookreview.com

BOOK REVIEW GUIDELINES

The following are guidelines for anyone interested in submitting a written book review to be published on Latino Book Review. All book reviews will be evaluated by our board before they are accepted to make sure the reviews and books submitted are aligned with Latino Book Review's philosophy. Material submitted may be accepted or denied.

- 1) The review must be of a Latino/a author or Latino related work.
- 2) Word Limit: The review should be around 250 words, plus a short author's bio of about 40 words. Reviews are very brief.
- 3) Format: The review must answer Who, What, and Why. Who=the author, What=what the book is mainly about, and Why=why our readers might find the book interesting.
- 4) Style: Must not use 1st person point of view (In other words no "I"). Review must stay positive (No book bashing).
- 5) Ethics: Books should be chosen based on their quality and not based on a close relationship with the author.

Note: Latino Book Review reserves the right to edit any reviews submitted.
For any questions please contact:

Gerald A. Padilla
Editor-in-chief
Latino Book Review
gpadilla@latinobookreview.com